

Saga instructor and assessor qualification requirements

For an individual to qualify as an instructor or a skills assessor, they should have at least 100 hours of recent experience in the field they're interested in instructing or assessing. Or, a combination of related skills and experience related to the topic would be acceptable upon review by Saga.

In addition to the above, an instructor or skills assessor also needs to be designated by their employer to represent that employer. In the case where an individual is self employed, a statement by the same individual who is self-employed will suffice as permission on behalf of the self-employed.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understood the above policies and qualification requirements in its entirety and agree to them.
